LUKE McLUKE SAYS

The Ill Cost of Living was only a pup in the days when a household was awakened every morning by the music of a coffee grinder.

Every woman dresses to please other men and to displease other women.

A man can have a face like a Cubist puzzle and yet the woman he is good to will think he is handsome.

Marriage may be a lottery to the girls under 25. But to the older girls it is a grab bag.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst."

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallown cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

CALM-CONTRAST.

(For the Christian Observer, by Rev. J. M. Evans.)

There are some young disciples who from the time they give their hearts to the Saviour become workers for Him. The subject of this sketch was one of these. He united with the church when about 14. He was taken home when 19, having left a precious testimony as a loyal and devoted follower of his Saviour. His illness was brief, his death unexpected. He was the first to realize that his time to depart from the things which are seen and temporal, to know the reality of the things which are not seen and eternal had come. Calm as the sun goes down, when not a cloud is seen and not even a gentle zephyr causes a leaf to ripple on the bough, he called his loved ones around him to hear his last requests.

He first made mention of what disposition should be made of his small accumulations called earthly possessions. Then he made arrangements for his funeral—who should preach it, what hymns he wanted sung. He selected one, asked his brother to select one, his pastor one. His own selection was, "I Love To Tell The Story." Turning from those around him, his thoughts rested on the young men who were intimate friends, eight in all, who were not Christians. By name he asked in prayer that they might be saved and meet him in heaven. Then with a smile on his face he said good-bye to each one near his couch and fell asleep, to wake in heaven.

The eight young men were his pallbearers. A meeting was held by the pastor soon after. All of them made a confession of faith and united with the church. So far as the pastor's knowledge extends they were faithful. After the funeral the pastor sought the father privately to speak some words of sympathy. When the conversation began the father smiled and said, "I thank you, but let me say, no father ever loved a son more, no one ever needed one more, no one ever missed one more, but I am as much reconciled to my Father's will upon the day of his burial as upon the day of his birth. He gave him, He took him, and He never makes a mistake." Reconciled, he took up his accustomed duties with more zeal than before as ruling elder, superintendent of the Sabbath school, and leading man in the church. He was never heard to utter a word of complaint. He continued his useful life till his work was done and the summons came to meet his son where separations never come.

The contrast! In the same pastorate a mother was robbed of her beautiful, accomplished daughter. Like the young man, she had been a Christian for years. Lying in the arms of the monster we call Death, whom Jesus alone has conquered, robbed of his sting and plucked the victory from the grave, peacefully, triumphantly, she exclaimed, "Come, Lord Jesus, come quickly!" Her face was radiant, while the most beautiful smile those who had the privilege of being there had ever seen, a reflection from the countenance of her Saviour, played upon hers, and she was not, for He took her.

But her mother was never reconciled. She distressed everybody she knew by her complaints. Her friends avoided her. She became a terror to all. Life was a burden. She absented herself from the house of God, took no pleasure in religion, lived as if her Heavenly Father had made a great mistake, and walked in darkness. She left no testimony behind to honor a dying Saviour or to advance His Kingdom. The contrast between the two is as great as light and darkness, life and death.

If these words are read by any who have bruised, mangled and crushed hearts, may they be led to follow the example of this father. It will lighten the burden, give joy, peace, happiness. The testimony thus given will be for the glory of God.

CHRISTMAS SLAUGHTER OF TURKEYS.

(Fleming Gazette.)

Brent & Lynch closed up their turkey business here last week, after slaughtering between 13,000 and 14,000 turkeys during the season.

When some other man's wife does anything, a man will say: "How womanly!" And when he own wife does anything he will say: "That's just like a woman!" And there's an awful difference between the two statements.

TAX COLLECTOR 74 YEARS OLD

Expected to Resign on Account of Feebleness—Gained Strength and Twenty-four Pounds by Taking Vinol.

Corinth, Miss.—"I am a city tax collector and seventy-four years of age. I was in a weak, run-down condition so that I became exhausted by every little exertion. My druggist told me about Vinol, and I decided to take it. In a week I noticed considerable improvement; I continued its use and now I have gained twenty pounds in weight, and feel much stronger. I consider Vinol a fine tonic to create strength for old people."—J. A. PRICE, Corinth, Miss.

As one grows old their organs act more slowly and less effectively than in youth. Circulation is poor, the blood gets thin, the appetite poor and digestion weak. Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, is the ideal strengthener and body builder for old folks because it creates a good healthy appetite, strengthens digestion, enriches the blood, improves circulation and in this natural manner builds up, strengthens and invigorates feeble, run-down, nervous and aged people, and if it does not do all we say, we will pay back your money.

John C. Pecor, Druggist, Maysville, Ky.

CRIME BREEDERS.

The head of the Pinkerton detectives says that the moving picture shows of crime "are the most powerful influence in the country today for making criminals out of boys and girls." Then it is the duty of parents not to let their children go to any of the shows till they know what will be represented.—Central Methodist Advocate.
